Recognizing Boy Scouts

Keam Calls for ‘Part 2’ Of Transportation Bill

Studying Lincoln, Law of War

Boy Scout leaders Rus Pittman, Bob Freeman, Al Fox, Steve Costner, Jim Ashe and Jim Lee joined Optimist Club event organizer Jim Stivison for a group photo.
Simplifying One's Life
Vienna organizer declutters, promotes time management and goal-setting.

By Donna Manz
The Connection

Do you have summer clothes wedged in the midst of heavy winter sweaters? Is there a knick-knack that you really don’t like, from a favorite aunt, sitting in a prominent spot? Are there clothes too big, clothes too small, clothes you really don’t like, taking up space in your closet? Are there things hanging around your office that you really don’t need — or really don’t like? What about those boxes you haven’t peeked into for years?

There’s an “app” for that. A human app, a professional organizer, someone like Gladys Kozlik of Vienna who has been decluttering lives since the early 1990s.

“Gladys Kozlik organizes physical space and addresses time management in her job as a professional organizer.”

“Some people think it’s an extravagant cost. But the value Gladys adds is priceless.”

— Tracey Badger

Kozlik works with physical space, time management, and goal-setting. Time management Kozlik described as like decluttering your time.

HER RELATIONSHIP with a client usually starts with physical space, a particular room, such as home office or storage area. Frequently, people contact her because they are overwhelmed by a major life event, such as divorce or a move. Initially, Kozlik interviews new clients by phone, prioritizing their needs, ascertaining their organizational goals. She charges by the hour with a three-hour minimum.

“I tell people, ‘less is more,’” said Kozlik. “‘If you’re looking to make your life simpler, we might have to get rid of things. Are you ready to do that?’ I give them choices over the phone so they start thinking about the process.”

Tracey Badger, a Vienna mother of three young children, moved into a new home about two years ago. When the family moved, Badger packed up everything in the former house bringing everything with the move. With boxes and kids, Badger looked for someone to organize her house and found Kozlik.

“She has a good way about her,” said Badger of Kozlik. “She has a good eye about what goes but is sensitive to personal needs. There were some kids’ clothes that were very sentimental to me, and some, not so sentimental.”

Kozlik went through the house room by room, including the garage, and piece by piece in the closets. She filled bags with clothes for church donations, itemizing inclusions for tax purposes.

Badger uses Kozlik’s services weekly.

“She’s fantastic,” said Badger. “I couldn’t have completed all the jobs I’ve done without her,” Badger said. “Some people think it’s an extravagant cost. But the value Gladys adds is priceless.”

Gladys Kozlik came by her career before organizers were known as professionals. A single, working mother in 1992, Kozlik was reaching out for a career that would generate greater revenue and made use of her “knack” for organizing and time management and turned those skills into a full-time job.

KOZLIK SHARED some tips for organizing your space.

1. Keep like-things together. Kitchen items stay in the kitchen, closet items – coats, scarves – go in the closet, not over chairs. Accessibility is important. Coats go in the hall closet, not in a bedroom.

2. Keep life simple. Stick to the basics. You only want things around you that you truly love to see. You should surround yourself with the things that give you pleasure. Do you really like it? If not, get rid of it.

3. Everything should have a home. Office supplies should be in a convenient place. Kitchen things you use often should be accessible. Everyone in the house should know where the “homes” are.

4. Manage your time well. Prioritize and set goals for your life. Where would you like to be in five years? Set a plan.

5. Consider your space. If you’re downsizing, recognize your new space limitations. You might have to get rid of a lot of things you no longer have space for in a smaller home.

Contact Gladys Kozlik at Glad2Organize, Inc., phone 703-725-3827 or 703-281-1345.

“Some people think it’s an extravagant cost. But the value Gladys adds is priceless.”

— Tracey Badger
Recognizing Boy Scouts

The Optimists Club is dedicated to serving area youth.

The Optimists Club is all about promoting the welfare of youth, from pediatric cancer fundraising to school-aged competitions that foster optimism and good citizenship. On Feb. 2, the Optimist Club of Greater Vienna honored local Boy Scout leaders for their dedication and support to area youth. The Optimist Club and the Boy Scouts of America share similar goals, said event chair, Jim Stivison. “The Scouts get recognized all the time but the Scoutmasters don’t,” Stivison said. All district Scoutmasters were invited to the dinner honoring them at Marco Polo. The Greater Vienna Optimists Club covers the area bounded by George C. Marshall High School, James Madison High School and Oakton High School.

“Two organizations that come to mind as being in the forefront of supporting the youth of the United States are the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts.”

— Event Chair Jim Stivison

Boy Scout leaders Rus Pittman, Bob Freeman, Al Fox, Steve Costner, Jim Ashe and Jim Lee joined Optimist Club event organizer Jim Stivison for a group photo.

Mark’s Church, American Legion Post 180 and Vienna Presbyterian Church attended the recognition dinner, and Al Fox, Scoutmaster of St. Mark’s Troop 1978, described the journey from newbie to Eagle Scout. Rus Pittman and Bob Freeman represented an Emmanuel Lutheran Church troop; Al Fox represented St. Mark’s Troop 1978; Steve Costner and Jim Ashe represented American Legion Post 180 Troop 1539; Jim Lee represented Vienna Presbyterian Church Troop 152.

Fox emphasized the bonding experience Scouting offers. The elementary school Scouts make friends they keep in middle school and beyond. “Bonding is one of the things that keep kids in Scouting,” Fox said. Each time a District-area Scout achieves Eagle rank, the Greater Vienna Optimists donate $100 to his troop in the new Eagle Scout’s name and the Eagle Scout is presented with a plaque recognizing his achievement. At Vienna Town Hall is a plaque naming each Eagle Scout honored by the Optimists. The Optimist Club of Greater Vienna runs a childhood cancer campaign, sponsors academic competitions and essay contests, operates the Vienna Farmers’ Market in the caboose parking lot and raises funds for its community service programs with the club’s annual Christmas tree sales on Maple Avenue. The club also maintains the Washington & Old Dominion caboose.

THE GREATER VIENNA OPTIMISTS meet at Marco Polo Restaurant in Vienna at 7 p.m. on the first and third Wednesdays of every month. The club is always looking for new members. See www.optimistclubofgreatervienna.org/

— Donna Manz

$20,000 contribution by eight local businesses will help two high school seniors to attend college.

Making College a Reality

Local businesses help two high school seniors to attend college.

Firas Nasr (foreground left) and James Caracoglia (right) received college scholarships of $10,000 from the In Hope Freedom Rings Foundation Jan. 10 at the Historic Blenheim Civil War Interpretive Center in Fairfax. Standing with Jack Dale, far right, Superintendent of Fairfax County Public Schools, are representatives of the businesses that contributed to the scholarships. Back Row: Tim Cropp, Cropp Metcalfe; Myron Boncarosky, Virginia Tire & Auto; Barbara Thompson, Papa John’s Pizza; Middle Row: Margo R. Friedman, CouponsToGo.com; Sara Brendmoen and Larry Rosenman, Springfield Lorton Dental Group.

A $20,000 contribution by eight local businesses will help two high school seniors to attend college. Each student receives a $10,000 In Hope Freedom Rings Foundation scholarship.

This is the sixth year that the foundation has awarded the college scholarships. The presentation was held on Jan. 10 at the Historic Blenheim & Civil War Interpretive Center in Fairfax. The foundation has awarded $110,000 in scholarships to college bound students attending Fairfax County high schools.

This year Governor McDonnell also proclaimed Jan. 10 as the “In Hope Freedom Rings Foundation Day” in Virginia in honor of the foundation and its supporters who are “helping young people continue their education.”

The businesses are: Burke Centre Automotive; CouponsToGo.com; Cropp Metcalfe Services; Hadeed Oriental Rug Cleaning; Mitchell Cropp, Cropp Metcalfe; Myron Boncarosky, Virginia Tire & Auto; Barbara Thompson, Papa John’s Pizza; Middle Row: Margo R. Friedman, CouponsToGo.com; Sara Brendmoen and Larry Rosenman, Springfield Lorton Dental Group; and Virginia Tire and Auto.

Bill Freitas from Papa John’s and Myron Boncarosky from Virginia Tire and Auto were single out by the governor for their “charity commitment and investment in our young citizens.” Both companies have supported the scholarship program for five years.

Superintendent of Fairfax County Public Schools Dr. Jack Dale presented the 2011 scholarships to James Anthony Caracoglia from Oakton High School and Firas Nasr, a senior at James W. Robinson, Jr. Secondary School.

With the highest grade point average in his class, Caracoglia boasts an impressive list of academic and athletic achievements and holds leadership positions in school and church. His accomplishments include being named the Northern Region (VA) Scholar-Athlete six times, the Vienna Optimist Club Excellence Award in Academics, Oakton High School Cougar Commendation.
Studying Lincoln, Law of War

Burrus M. Carnahan looks at Emancipation Proclamation, Civil War.

By Donna Man
The Connection

Burrus M. Carnahan, former U.S. Air Force lawyer, is a Viennar author on Lincoln and the law of war.

Since 2002 for the State Department. His interest in Lincoln drew him into Civil War history and to hear dates and events roll off Carnahan’s tongue is to be captivated back into time, into the railing years between 1860 and 1865. “Civil War armies were incredibly destructive of property,” said Carnahan. Both sides were. It wasn’t planned, it’s just the way they lived.”

Vienna is an example of the destruction wreaked by Union forces. “Everything but the train station and Freeman House was torn down in Vienna,” Carnahan said. “Abandoned buildings were destroyed and the wood re-used.”

On April 30, between 1 a.m. and 2 p.m. the Vienna Police will hold a town hall meeting in his District on Saturday, Feb. 12, 2011, from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., in the 3rd Floor Conference Room at 1952 Gallows Rd. in Vienna.

This will be Keam’s second public town hall meeting of 2011, following the joint hearing he held in the first week of session with State Senator Chap Petersen, on Saturday, January 15.

Del. Comstock Honors Wolf Trap, Forms Arts Caucus

Del. Comstock (R-34) introduced HJR 655, a resolution commending Wolf Trap on the occasion of their 40th anniversary serving the community with “lasting memories that millions of people will treasure over their lifetimes, through unique performing arts experiences and arts education programs.

On Monday, Jan. 31, a special Center Aisle presentation in the House of Delegates was held to commend Wolf Trap and present the resolution to Karen Pittleman, Director of Wolf Trap National Park for the Performing Arts, and Terre Jones, President and CEO of the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts.

On Arts Advocacy Day, Jan. 27, Del. Comstock and Del. Eileen Filler-Corn (D-41) held the inaugural meeting of the House of Delegates Arts Caucus. The mission of the caucus is to promote and work with local arts community to highlight and support their programs and performances and promote their efforts with the business community and the donor community.

New Vienna Preschool to Hold Open Houses

Good Shepherd Preschool, a new weekly outreach ministry of The Church of the Good Shepherd (United Methodist) in Vienna, will hold open houses in February as registration opens for fall 2011 enrollment. Each Tuesday and Thursday in February from 10 a.m. to noon, an open house will be held at the preschool, located at 2351 Hunter Mill Rd.

“We are very excited to begin this new program for 3- and 4-year-old children in our area, and we are blessed to have an experienced preschool director to lead our efforts,” said The Rev. Mark Burgess, pastor of the church.

Tina Harkness is the preschool’s new director. She has more than 20 years’ experience leading other church-related preschool programs.

For more information, call the church at 703-281-3987, ext. 18. You also may e-mail the director Tina Harkness at: thegoodshepherdpreschool@gmail.com. Information is also available at the church website: www.GoodShepherdVA.com.
Troop 1128 Promotes 100th Eagle Scout

On Jan. 2, Warren Vernon became the 100th Boy Scout from Troop 1128 of Vienna to be awarded the rank of Eagle. Troop 1128 is sponsored by Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church and has been in existence since the 1960s. The first Eagle Scout from Troop 1128 was Marshall Decker who achieved the rank in 1971. In attendance at Warren’s Eagle Court of Honor was Robert Leggett, Troop 1128’s scoutmaster for the past 31 years and Bob Dye, a District Eagle board member. Warren rose quickly through the Boy Scout ranks taking on leadership positions at each level and participating in several high adventure trips with the troop.

Warren completed his Eagle Scout project by leading a group of 20 Scouts and 10 adults in a successful food drive in support of SHARE of McLean, an organization which supports needy families in the area. Over 1,900 pounds of food and $550 in cash donations were collected for SHARE. Warren’s efforts were acknowledged in a letter from the SHARE Board of Directors: “Your well planned and creative approach significantly increased the amount of donations over any previous drives and helped set the standards for future events.” Warren feels proud and honored to be the 100th Eagle Scout in Troop 1128. He plans to continue in Scouting and hopes to one day serve as an Assistant Scoutmaster.

Scholarships

News

From left, Robert Leggett, Scoutmaster Troop 1128, Warren Vernon, and Bob Dye, Chain Bridge District Eagle Board member.

Eagle Scout

From Page 3

From Page 3

Institution in Academic Achievement. He is fluent in both speaking and reading Spanish and served as the 2010-11 captain of the varsity track team (distance) and varsity cross country team. His true love is science and his ambition is to pursue a career in research.

Nasr exudes enthusiasm and his background includes receiving the “Discus Award,” an academic and extra-curricular-based award presented to select students from around the country who demonstrate well-roundedness. He is co-captain of the speech and debate teams, co-president, English honor society and president of the Spanish honor society. With a school letter in orchestra, he plays the violin in a national award-winning philharmonic orchestra and is a Third Degree Black Belt in Tae Kwon Do. In addition, he is an entrepreneur and founder of Luna Jewelry where he designs, creates and sells unique jewelry pieces.

The Foundation was started six years ago by local business owner Margo R. Friedman, a former school teacher, who wanted to give back to the community in a meaningful way. Her dream was to help young people continue their education.

Your Friendly, Neighborhood Thrift Shop

YESTERDAY’S ROSE

where you never see the same thing twice

Thifty Thursday

50% OFF

Clothes, Shoes & Purses

Every Thursday

10 a.m.-9 p.m.

Not valid with other discounts or sales.

50% OFF

Housewares & Linens

Saturday, 2-12/11

10 a.m.-6 p.m.

Not valid with other discounts or sales.

Clothing • Furniture • Housewares

9960 Main St. Fairfax, VA

703-385-9517 • www.yesterdaysrose.org

YESTERDAY’S ROSE

where you never see the same thing twice

Thifty Thursday

50% OFF

Clothes, Shoes & Purses

Every Thursday

10 a.m.-9 p.m.

Not valid with other discounts or sales.

50% OFF

Housewares & Linens

Saturday, 2-12/11

10 a.m.-6 p.m.

Not valid with other discounts or sales.

Clothing • Furniture • Housewares

9960 Main St. Fairfax, VA

703-385-9517 • www.yesterdaysrose.org

VIENNA BABE RUTH BASEBALL

REGISTRATION NOW OPEN FOR SPRING 2011 SEASON!

WANTED: PLAYERS OF ALL SKILL LEVELS, MANAGERS, COACHES & VOLUNTEERS!

RETURNING GVRBL PLAYERS may visit GYBRL.ORG to register

NEW GVRBL PLAYERS must register in person at one of these sessions:

• Wed, Feb. 16th, 7:30 to 9:00 PM
• Mon, Feb. 20th, 6:00 to 9:30 PM

Vienna Community Center

120 Cherry St., Vienna

Phone 703-255-5721

VIENNA BABE RUTH BASEBALL OFFERS:

• COMPETITIVE LEAGUE PLAY FOR AGES 13 TO 18
• PEEF, NATIONAL, AMERICAN, AND SENIOR LEAGUES
• PARTICIPATE IN COUGAR CLASH & OTHER TOURNAMENTS
• TOURNAMENT TRAVEL SENATORS TEAMS FOR 13’s, 14’s, 15’s

Greater Vienna Babe Ruth League - Info at GYBRL.ORG

Culinaria

Cooking School

Treat yourself to a special Valentine’s Day Dinner this year — and leave the cooking to us!

We’re hosting a “Dinner for Two” class on Monday, February 14, from 7-10 p.m.

For $120 / couple, you’ll not only learn to prepare these great dishes, but you will also feast on:

• Basil-Eggplant Soup
• Grilled Sea Scallops with Basil and Lavender Essence
• Pasta with Asparagus, Chicken, and Gorgonzola
• Warm Chocolate Cake with Grand Marnier Whipped Cream

For more information and to register for classes, please go to www.culinariacookingschool.com

Or give us a call at 703.865.7920

Step-by-Step to Cooking Success

110 Pleasant Street, NW

Vienna, Virginia 22180

www.ConnectionNewspapers.com

NEwS
Happy Valentine’s Day
Better than roses or chocolate, ratify equal rights for women; 35 states have done so but not Virginia; 38 states needed to amend the constitution.

E quality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.”

These words, conceived in 1923 by Alice Paul, who was jailed at the Occoquan Workhouse in Lorton for demonstrating for women’s right to vote, were approved by the United States Congress in 1972 as the Equal Rights Amendment to the United States Constitution.

To amend the constitution required the approval of 38 states; 35 voted in favor. Virginia was not among them.

This year, some of Northern Virginia’s representatives in the General Assembly re-introduced the measure, and a resolution supporting the Equal Rights Amendment passed in the Virginia Senate 24-16, with all of Northern Virginia’s senators voting in favor.

Thanks especially to state Sen. Patsy Ticer for advocating for what could have been a gift to all the women of Virginia and the United States, and thanks to Senators George Barker, Mark Herring, Janet Howell, Dave Marsden, Chap Petersen, Todd Puller, Dick Saslaw, and Mary Margaret Whipple for voting in favor of equal rights for women.

Delegates Mark Sickles, Kay Kory and Scott Surovell sponsored the same legislation in the Virginia House of Delegates, but the measure, which previously died in the Virginia General Assembly in 1980, languished in subcommit-

With equal pay for women still just a goal or dream in the United States as just one example ongoing limits to women’s rights, ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment would be welcome at the state and national level, and a worthy Valentine’s Day present to the mothers, wives, daughters, sisters in Virginia and beyond. With women’s rights as a concern worldwide and a consideration in U.S. foreign policy, such a step would send the message that the U.S. is committed to women’s rights at home and beyond.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 357
RESOLVED by the Senate of Virginia, the House of Delegates concurring, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia hereby ratifies and affirms the Equal Rights Amendment to the United States Constitution proposed by the United States Congress on March 22, 1972, and ratified by 35 state legislatures.

— Mary Kimm
mkimm@connectionnewspapers.com

About Energy

By Sharon Bulova, Chairman
Fairfax County Board of Supervisors

I n ancient times, energy efficiency meant keeping the tribal cooking fires well-fed with branches and twigs gathered from the nearby forest. The gathering activity was not without some effort on the part of the tribe. Over the centuries, we’ve found easier ways of providing energy to cook our food, heat and cool our homes, support commerce and operate emerging tools and technologies.

Today, most of our energy sources are from fossil fuels such as coal, oil and natural gas and far too much of it is imported from other countries. Regardless of the origins, our reliance on fossil fuels is not sustainable and does not provide long-term supply security. It also takes its toll on the environment as it is dug, pumped or blasted out of the earth.

Thirty years ago, a similar story unfolded in Europe. Faced with potentially crippling supply threats, weak economies and serious environmental degradation countries such as Finland and Germany framed new energy policies around long-term supply reliability, technical flexibility and transportation alternatives.

Local leaders from Northern Virginia have been able to observe firsthand the success of these policies through a Sister-Region Partnership between the Northern Virginia Regional Commission (NVRC) and the Verband Region of Stuttgart, Germany. Stuttgart, Helsinki and other European cities we saw large-scale applications of renewable energies from wind, solar and biomass. We studied district energy systems that combined heat and electrical power generation, including waste-to-energy, and distributed it efficiently through downtown central business districts.

Fairfax County has been a pioneer in energy innovation. An example is our Waste-to-Energy facility in Lorton, where heat from burning garbage is converted into energy that is then used to run the plant. Essential elements of our Environmental Agenda include the efficient use of energy resources, the promotion of energy conservation and support for alternative energy sources. We have made notable strides towards improving the energy efficiency of our County buildings, facilities and operations – but we can do more.

Real progress can only be achieved in partnership with the private sector. Redevelopment in Fairfax County, will offer significant opportunities for creativity and collaboration that we must explore. Additionally, technology is emerging that will help our residents and corporations save valuable and precious natural resources as we heat and cool our homes and offices and operate machinery and tools. During 2011, Fairfax County will be making innovation and collaboration for Energy that is clean, efficient, sustainable, secure and reliable a priority. At a Business Roundtable Discussion in December I presented a proposal to convene a Private Sector Energy Task Force. The Task Force is meeting throughout the winter and spring and includes representatives of the residential and business communities, institutional representatives such as George Mason University, Northern Virginia Community College, INOVA, and utilities operating in Fairfax County.

The group’s purpose is to define steps our community can take to position ourselves as a leader in the area of energy efficiency, sustainability and “green” technology.

Fairfax County looks forward to collaborating with our neighboring jurisdiction in Northern Virginia where similar efforts are underway. Together we can ensure that our businesses remain competitive, while attracting green business to complement our existing industry sectors and serving as responsible stewards of our natural resources.
Keam Calls for ‘Part 2’ Of Transportation Bill

Assessing the General Assembly session at mid-point.

By Lizi Arbogast
Capital News Service

The General Assembly is about halfway through its 2011 session, and the dust is starting to clear on which bills may become laws and which ones will end up in the dustbin.

The House of Delegates has made quite a bit of headway, especially in the areas of higher education and transportation. Last Friday, the House passed the transportation plan proposed by Gov. Bob McDonnell – one of many bills that could have a big impact on Northern Virginia.

Tuesday is “crossover day” in the assembly: If a bill hasn’t cleared the House or Senate by then, it is dead for the session.

“I’ve introduced about 16 bills total, of which I think I’m going to have six passed under my name. I’ve been told that is a pretty decent number, especially in the minority party.”

— Del. Mark Keam (D-35)

With that as a backdrop, Connection Newspapers visited with Del. Mark Keam (D-35). Here is his assessment of the session to this point.

Q: What would you consider the main accomplishments so far?
A: Aside from my own legislative accomplishments, I also feel like there’s a really strong sense of cooperation that I’ve felt this year, unlike what I’ve been told this place is – it’s not as partisan as I expected it to be. I mean, obviously, there’ll be wedge issues where Republicans and Democrats will fight over partisan issues, but by and large, most issues we’ve dealt with have been very cooperative. If it’s a good idea, it’ll pass; if it’s a bad idea, it’s not going to happen.

Given the financial situation of the Commonwealth and the budget restraints, there aren’t any really crazy things that have happened yet, so I guess I feel good about the fact that we’re all working toward common-sense solutions.

Q: What do you think has been the most disappointing part of the session?
A: My biggest disappointment – maybe it’s not disappointment as much as I wish we had a more robust conversation about the transportation plan. The House passed its version Friday, and the Senate will pass its version [soon]. There aren’t major differences between the two versions, but the sad thing was that the governor’s plan only included a one-time debt and a one-time taking of the surplus money from the general fund. There was no conversation whatsoever about the continuing streams of revenue.

In Northern Virginia and Fairfax County, we really need a steady source of revenue beyond a one-time shot in the arm. All of the other conversations were whether there were gas taxes or other types of taxing authorities in Northern Virginia. None of those provisions passed, and so I guess from that perspective – I mean, it’s a great first step, and I commend the governor for coming up with a transportation plan, but it really is only the first step.

I really wish that this year we were able to deal with the second part of it, which would be the continuing source of funding. I wouldn’t say it’s a frustration or disappointment as much as it’s a half of a loaf – so I wish we had the second half of the loaf as well.
Review

Surprise and Laughter at 1st Stage

By David Siegel  THE CONNECTION

Life is an action-packed ride. When you wake up each morning with no memory of what happened the day before, your prey needs you. She is a sweet, perky woman finding middle age. The very sight of a strange face or a name wakes up the back of her mind. An alarm clock, a husband she does not recognize and a sullen son. That is merely the beginning of the lively “Fuddy Meers” now at 1st Stage.

With the agreeable Millian Powell as Claire, “Fuddy Meers” is an ambitious dark comedy with little time for self-absorption or contemplation. Under the direction of Lee Krikstan along with a myriad of large puzzle pieces by Mark Schulm, the production can engross.

“Fuddy Meers” by David Lindsay-Abaire. 1st Stage Theater, 4400 University Drive, Fairfax. Luigi Pirandello’s surrealistic tragicomedy, “The Memory of Happiness,” is an action-packed production Friday, 8 p.m.; Saturday, 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. and Sunday, 2 p.m. Free performances for adults learning English. 703-938-3992. www.1ststagetysons.org.

“Fuddy Meers” is an animated dark comedy. 703-854-1856 or cfa.gmu.edu.

Entertainment

HOW TO GET YOUR ORGANIZATION’S SPECIAL EVENTS IN THE CONNECTION

Calendar Listings

The Connection Newspapers contain a Calendar of Upcoming Events every week. While we cannot guarantee that every event we receive information about will be listed, here is the information we need for your upcoming event to be considered for the Calendar. We welcome photographs of similar events held previously which sometimes appear with Calendar items.

Name of Event

Day of the Week, Date and Time

Name of the Place – Will Be Held

Address of the Place Will Be Held

Phone Number or More Information

Three Sentences Describing the Event

Please submit your calendar information at least two weeks before your event. Clear photographs from similar previous events are always welcome. All events should be open to the public. We give first priority to five events. E-mail listings to: vienna@connectionnewspapers.com or mail to: Calendar, Connection Newspapers, 1606 King Street, Alexandria, VA 22314

For more information, call 703-778-9410.

Join Us for Valentine’s Day

Monday, February 14, 2011

Open Till 11:00 PM

The McLean Community Center

1196 Market Street (Bent Orange Center) – Boston. 703-455-4186

$12 Watson St. (Tysons). 703-556-2288

www.bazaaru.com

Join us for Valentine’s Day. Call for reservations: 703-796-9184

www.ConnectionNewspapers.com

FIRST CLASS MAILED

Subscribe now and get your issues delivered to your door. Call 703-778-9426 for a mail subscription. For your convenience, we will deliver your newspaper to your door. Call 703-778-9426 or e-mail subscription@connectionnewspapers.com.
Kilmer MathCounts Team Wins Awards at Regional Competition

Kilmer MathCounts team competed on Feb. 5 with 22 teams from various Northern Virginia schools at the MathCounts Northern Virginia Regional Competition at Lake Braddock Secondary School. After rigorous selection process and multiple exams, the following students were selected from among 50 students to represent the school: Kenneth Chen, Jessica Guo, Peter Kim, Kevin Lin, William Long, David Nouri, Ramya Radhakrishnan, and Virginia Sun. All of them participated in the competition.

During a day-long competition, Kilmer achieved the following:
- Third Place Overall; Count Down - Two students were selected to be among the 16 Count Down Students; First Place in the Count Down round - Kevin Lin; First Place in Best Individual Performance - Peter Kim; Third Place in Best Individual Performance - Kevin Lin; Highest scoring individual student among all 23 teams - Peter Kim.

Peter Kim, an 8th grader, will be moving on to compete at the State level.

The team is being coached by Yeon Rhee of Solomon Academy.

School Notes

Send school notes to vienna@connectionnewspapers.com. Deadline is Friday.

Lily Alexandra Kruglak of Vienna has been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at Juniata College of Huntingdon, Pa. The senior is studying peace and conflict studies with a secondary emphasis in theatre arts. Kruglak is the daughter of Dr. Gregory Kruglak and Patricia Kruglak.

Stephanie Bitterman of Vienna has been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at the University of Delaware. Bitterman is a first semester senior majoring in communication.

Kathryn A. Moore of Vienna has been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at the University of the District of Columbia in Washington, D.C. Moore is the daughter of Daniel Moore and Susan Hess.

Kevin Clark Samson, Jr. of Vienna has been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at Colby College in Waterville, Me. She is the daughter of Daniel Moore and Susan Hess.

Vienna residents Amanda C. Althoff, Alexander C. Andrews and Andrew M. Schrock have been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at Mount St. Mary’s University of Emmitsburg, Md. Althoff, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Samuel Althoff, Sr. Andrews, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews. Schrock, a junior, is the son of Elizabeth Tillson.

Oakton residents Paul C. Gross, a senior philosophy major, and David T. Wozny, a first-year medical laboratory sciences major, have been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at the University of Vermont of Burlington, Vt.

Vienna residents Howard T. Lenz, a first-year undeclared major in the College of Arts & Sciences, and Rachel D. Park, a junior biological science major, have been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at the University of Vermont of Burlington, Vt.

Gregory Bowman Farrar of Oakton has been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Theyab M. Bin Alnehayan of Vienna has been named to the fall 2010 dean’s list at the Florida Institute of Technology.
Valentine’s Viewpoints

What is the recipe for a fulfilling and strong marriage?

—Donna Manz

Joanna Slan, author, married 28 years, Vienna

“The recipe for a fulfilling marriage is for each person to have his/her own life, as well as a shared life as a couple. You need to find your own interests so that when you are together you bring that zest for life to your couple-dom. That keeps your appreciation for each other fresh and vital.”

Barbara McHale, Realtor, married 44 years, Vienna

“The thing with marriage is to realize that it’s not easy, and not to have unrealistic expectations. Nobody is perfect. To make a marriage work is to recognize reality and not live in a dream world. Being willing to compromise and see the other side may be number one.”

Michele Wright Hegel, attorney, married 15 years, Vienna

“You need to be flexible and realistic about expectations, willing to compromise and be respectful of the other person.”

M. Jane Seeman, Mayor, Town of Vienna, married 37 years before death of spouse

“I think respect for each other is very important. Shared interests are great but each also needs their own time and interests.”

Barbara McHale, Realtor, married 44 years, Vienna

“You need to be flexible and realistic about expectations, willing to compromise and be respectful of the other person.”

Michele Wright Hegel, attorney, married 15 years, Vienna

“You need to be flexible and realistic about expectations, willing to compromise and be respectful of the other person.”

M. Jane Seeman, Mayor, Town of Vienna, married 37 years before death of spouse

“I think respect for each other is very important. Shared interests are great but each also needs their own time and interests.”

Mary Ellen Larkins, glass artist, married almost 41 years, Vienna

“Blend together equal parts love, patience, understanding, perspective, compromise, and kindness, then add a double-helping of luck.”

Old Dominion Cotillion Honors 2011 Debutantes

The Old Dominion Cotillion twentieth anniversary holiday tea was held on Dec. 19 at the home of Mrs. Donald L. Pressley in Vienna.

Following Cotillion tradition, this event is hosted by the pages and future debs in honor of the debutantes who will be presented at the annual ball in July.

The ten 2011 debutantes are Miss Jessie Noelle Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Brown of Fairfax; Miss Erin Kathleen Dooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dooley of Oak Hill; Miss Morgan Michelle Doss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Doss of Oakton; Miss Taylor Jane Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Johnson of Oakton; Miss Stephanie Joy Kelly, daughter of Mr. Joseph Kelly and Mrs. Stephanie Dohanian of Arlington, and Ms. Kristine Kelly of Chantilly; Miss Darja Angelina Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee of Vienna; Miss Catherine Faye Mahoney, daughter of Dr. David and Dr. Karen Mahoney of Oakton; Miss Allison Jane Mulligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mulligan of Fairfax; Miss Mackenzie Danielle Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Vance of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Miss Cassidy Joy Watkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Watkinson of Clifton.

The holiday tea was also a philanthropic event dedicated to benefit the Fairfax INOVA Hospital Pediatric Center. In cooperation with the Reach Out and Read program of Falls Church, led by its founder Dr. Patricia Sushemihal, the young women of the Old Dominion Cotillion collected and donated boxes of children’s books to the pediatric center.

To learn more about The Old Dominion Cotillion, see www.olddominioncotillion.org.

‘Breakfast Boot-Camp’ to Support Charities

Two local businesses joined forces to create a celebrity-studded, fundraising event in the form of a “Breakfast Boot-Camp” which was held at Prospects Sports Training Facility in Vienna on Super Bowl Sunday (Feb. 6) at 7 a.m. Special guest appearances included Adam and Stacey Capers from NBC’s, The Biggest Loser (husband & wife from Gainesville, Va., participated in the 6th season and have lost over 170lbs so far); Jennifer Williams from VH1’s Basketball Wives (wife of NBA small forward Eric Williams).

This event was open to the public and included two group exercise classes led by fitness gurus, Roger Mack and Ken Stewart.

Mack and Ken Stewart, followed by an organic, gourmet breakfast buffet, courtesy of FUEL cafe. Ken Stewart of FUEL Cafe in Mclean has spearheaded the event, choosing to support charities for colorectal cancer & TBI (traumatic brain injuries) as they have touched him personally.

All proceeds of the fundraiser will benefit: Colorectal Cancer Coalition, 1414 Prince Street, Suite 204, Alexandria, VA 22314 www.FightColorectalCancer.org and Brain Injury Association of VA, 1506 Willow Lawn Drive, Suite 212, Richmond, VA 23230

What is the recipe for a fulfilling and strong marriage?

—Donna Manz

Joanna Slan, author, married 28 years, Vienna

“The recipe for a fulfilling marriage is for each person to have his/her own life, as well as a shared life as a couple. You need to find your own interests so that when you are together you bring that zest for life to your couple-dom. That keeps your appreciation for each other fresh and vital.”

Barbara McHale, Realtor, married 44 years, Vienna

“The thing with marriage is to realize that it’s not easy, and not to have unrealistic expectations. Nobody is perfect. To make a marriage work is to recognize reality and not live in a dream world. Being willing to compromise and see the other side may be number one.”

Michele Wright Hegel, attorney, married 15 years, Vienna

“You need to be flexible and realistic about expectations, willing to compromise and be respectful of the other person.”

M. Jane Seeman, Mayor, Town of Vienna, married 37 years before death of spouse

“I think respect for each other is very important. Shared interests are great but each also needs their own time and interests.”

Mary Ellen Larkins, glass artist, married almost 41 years, Vienna

“Blend together equal parts love, patience, understanding, perspective, compromise, and kindness, then add a double-helping of luck.”
SPORTS

Chris Hanburger Epitomized Redskins Football

By Rich Sanders / The Connection

My favorite part of Super Bowl week had nothing to do with either of the two competing teams - the Green Bay Packers or Pittsburgh Steelers. But it did have something to do with my favorite team, the Washington Redskins.

To me, the next best thing to having your favorite team in the Super Bowl is finding out that one of your favorite all-time NFL players has been selected for induction into the NFL Hall of Fame. When the NFL announced, during Super Bowl week, that former Redskins linebacker Chris Hanburger would be one of seven new inductees to be enshrined next August in Canton, Ohio, I was thrilled.

Redskins' fans have been fortunate in recent years to see former players such as cornerback Darrel Green, wide receiver Art Monk and offensive tackle Russ Grimm inducted into the Hall of Fame. Those three teams under Gibbs which won Super Bowls in the 1980s and early '90s under legendary coach Joe Gibbs, who himself is a member of the Hall.

Most current Redskins fans are well versed and learned of the great Redskins teams under Gibbs which won Super Bowls over the Miami Dolphins (1983), the Denver Broncos (1988) and the Buffalo Bills (1992).

But sort of forgotten by Redskins fandom was the 1970s when under head coach George Allen, who came to the Nation's Capital in 1971 and, over the following seven years, led Washington to NFL glory it had not known since the 1940s.

Hanburger, an undersized, perennial standout defensive player who had been chosen by the Redskins out of the University of North Carolina way back in 1965 in the 18th round of the NFL Draft, was a Hallmark member of the coach Allen teams - an era of Redskins history highlighted by a trip to Super Bowl VII in Los Angeles in January of 1973.

Hanburger was a coach's dream. He was a quiet leader counted upon to call the team's defensive formations. He was quick, ultra tough and had a nose for the football.

Hanburger, who throughout his Redskins' career was part of linebacker corps that included the likes of Jack Pardee, Harold McLinton and the great Sam Huff, was always, it seemed, involved in the middle of a play doing his best to help stop opposing offenses.

When I was a youngster, I loved those Redskins teams of the 1970s, which included standout players such as running back Larry Brown, receiver Charley Taylor, center Len Hauss, quarterbacks Billy Kilmer and Sonny Jurgensen, defensive linemen Diron Talbot and Verlon Biggs, and cornerback Pat Fischer. And there was also the steady Hanburger, whom I and other young fans thought had a last name spelling of H-A-M-B-U-R-G-E-R - like what you ate at McDonald's.

Hanburger or Hambur or Hanbourger, it didn't really matter to me. The Redskins' linebacker was a humble, non-arrogant member of the Redskins' 'Over The Hill Gang,' the affectionate nickname given to coach Allen's aged group of winners.

One of Hanburger's signature plays was the 'clothesline tackle,' in which the standout player would, with his swinging right arm, nail a ball carrier across the chin strap area to bring him down. That form of a tackle, now considered illegal, was a sight to behold when showcased by Hanburger.

But Hanburger was also a text-book, fundamentally sound linebacker who was known for his stunning, jarring hits on running backs. When in street clothes, Hanburger, with his handsome features and straight, boxer cut dark hair, looked anything but a star football player. But when attired in his football pads underneath his burgundy and gold uniform, the underdressed Hanburger was an NFL force.

Amazingly, up until recent weeks when his name was being tossed as a Hall of Fame candidate, most football fans, if asked to write down a list of the 100 or so best defensive players of all time, would not include Hanburger. Most probably would not even know who he was. He would not have fit into today's show boating style of players who raise their arms in triumph after sacking a quarterback or bringing down a ball carrier for no gain. Not physically imposing and anything but a flaunting, arrogant player, Hanburger was all about T-E-A-M. He could have cared less if his name was ever mentioned in a post game newspaper story, as long as he and his teammates had walked off the RFK Stadium field victorious.

Those Redskins teams of the 70s, thanks in part to the heroic's Hanburgers, were winners. Oh, if only the current Redskins' roster had more players the likes of a Chris Hanburger, who won Washington fans over with his consistent, first rate play and team-first mentality.

---

Reflections

The Langley girls finished first with 101 team points, edging the following eight through seventh place finishers: McLean's Kyle Pyne (third in long jump); McLean's Pague Richards won the 55 hurdles; and McLean's Clare Nelson (second in long jump, third in triple jump, third in high jump); McLinton was fifth in long jump, fifth in pole vault; and Kellie Marshall (fourth in shot put and pole vault); Marsh (fourth in shot put) and Joanne Gru (third in long jump), Kellie Marshall (fourth in shot put) and Madeleine Lewis (second in 55 hurdles); South Lakes' Danielle Hale (third in dash), Madison's Jaleece Durham won the 55 dash. For South Lakes, Kyannah Calhoun was champion in both the 500 dash and 300 dash events. Also for the Seahawks, Sumiya Yates was first place in the shot put with teammate Jasmin Colon finishing right behind her in second. And South Lakes' Aya Abdelhalim won the 55 hurdles. Other girls' place finishers across the district were: McLean's Clare Nelson (second in long jump, third in triple jump, fifth in 55 hurdles, fourth in high jump), Katalina Khourey (tied for second in pole vault), and Simone Janssen (fourth in 55 hurdles); Marsh's Claudia Castaneda (third in long jump), Kellie Marsh (fourth in shot put and pole vault); and Madeleine Lewis (second in 55 hurdles); South Lakes' Danielle Hale (third in dash, fourth in high jump); Madison's Tara Rajapuran (second in high jump), Jaleece Durham (third in shot put), Murphy Massey (fourth in 55 dash, fourth in 300 dash and fourth in 200 dash); Marshall's A-M. He could have cared less if his name was ever mentioned in a post game newspaper story, as long as he and his teammates had walked off the RFK Stadium field victorious. Those Redskins teams of the 70s, thanks in part to the heroic's Hanburgers, were winners. Oh, if only the current Redskins' roster had more players the likes of a Chris Hanburger, who won Washington fans over with his consistent, first rate play and team-first mentality.

---

Seahawk Boys, Saxon Girls Victorious at District Track

By Rich Sanders / The Connection

The Langley boys finished first with 101 team points, edging second place South Lakes (95), Jefferson (90) finished third and McLean (72) was fourth. Coming out the district girls' field were Madison (69), Marshall (31) and Fairfax.

On the boys' side, the perennial district champion South Lakes team captured the title with 214 points, well ahead of second place finisher Langley (54.50) and third place Fairfax (51). The fourth through seventh place finishers were McLean (48), Jefferson (46.50), Madison (41) and Marshall.

THE Langley BOYS took the top two spots in the pole vault, with Lucas Grim taking first and teammate Logan Besoglouff second. Other place finishers for the Saxons were: Guillerme Coulibay (second in long jump, third in 55 dash); Robert Yu (fourth in high jump); and Jake Peker (fourth in 1,000).

James Madison's Travis Johnson earned a first place finish in the boys' shot put. And McLean's Nicholas Hedrick took first place in the 1,000.

Other boys' athletic across the district to earn top four finishes were: McLean's Kyle Pyne (third in high jump) and Scott Laofo (second in shot put); Marshall's Louis Fernandez (fourth in 55 dash); and Madison's Justin Rexroad (fourth in 300) and Joseph Galliano (third in 3,200).

The McLean boys won the 4x800 relay, edging out second place South Lakes.

IN THE DISTRICT GIRLS' championships, champion Langley received an outstanding showing from Meigan McManus, won both the long jump and pole vault events. Also earning a first place finish for Langley was Jessica Miles, who won the 1,000 meters. Other Saxons place finishers were: Gabriella Jacobson (second in triple jump, third in high jump); Rylie Martins (second in pole vault); Catherine Flessas (fourth in pole vault); Adrienne Schmidt (second in 55 dash); Jessica Miles (second in 1,500); Liana Kramer and Sarah Woodford (third and fourth in 500); and Elissa Purdy (fourth in 1,000).

McLean's Pague Richards won the high jump. James Madison's Jaleece Durham won the 55 dash. For South Lakes, Kyannah Calhoun was champion in both the 500 dash and 300 dash events. Also for the Seahawks, Sumiya Yates was first place in the shot put with teammate Jasmin Colon finishing right behind her in second. And South Lakes' Aya Abdelhalim won the 55 hurdles. Other girls' place finishers across the district were: McLean's Clare Nelson (second in long jump, third in triple jump, third in 55 hurdles, fourth in high jump), Katalina Khourey (tied for second in pole vault), and Simone Janssen (fourth in 55 hurdles); Marshall's Claudia Castaneda (third in long jump), Kellie Marsh (fourth in shot put) and Madeleine Lewis (second in 55 hurdles); South Lakes' Danielle Hale (third in dash, fourth in high jump); Madison's Tara Rajapuran (second in high jump), Jaleece Durham (third in shot put), Murphy Massey (fourth in 55 dash, fourth in 300 dash and fourth in 200 dash); Marshall's A-M. He could have cared less if his name was ever mentioned in a post game newspaper story, as long as he and his teammates had walked off the RFK Stadium field victorious. Those Redskins teams of the 70s, thanks in part to the heroic's Hanburgers, were winners. Oh, if only the current Redskins' roster had more players the likes of a Chris Hanburger, who won Washington fans over with his consistent, first rate play and team-first mentality.
Surprise and Laughter at 1st Stage

In Kine’s, a seed of inspiration transforms into a fully-developed community of homes. And just like a blossom, each delicate detail has its own epiphany. It is my personal passion to instill that magic in every detail of your new home. - Peter Gulick, President & CEO

The Difference is

Gulick Group at AUTUMN WOOD

In Spring 2011, the fully-furnished model home at Autumn Wood will make its public debut. This exclusive community of eighteen homes represents one of the last opportunities to build new and experience living in Great Falls. To join the Priority Waiting List and have an early opportunity at the premier homesites, or to arrange a private showing, contact Deborah Lembo at 703.795.1333 or email autumn_wood@gulickgroup.com.

More information is available at www.gulickgroup.com.

The Difference is

Gulick

Vienna

9813 Bridleridge Ct.............$770,000...Sun 1-4....Katreen Rinaldi ............ Korte Realty..............703-927-3863

601 Plum St.......................$847,000...Sun 1-4....Lauren Sobol...............Realty Investment.....703-615-5812

Oakton

3208 Cobb Hill Lane...........$599,950...Sun 1-4....Judy Gruner.................Long & Foster...........703-517-2464

Reston

2523 Freeman Drive..........$535,000...Sun 1-4....Suzanne Burch.............Century 21...............703-328-5606

Herndon

2495 Golden Harvest Ct.....$389,950...Sun 1-4....Kathleen Quintarelli......Weichert....................703-862-8808

Great Falls

754 Ellsworth Ave.......... $1,699,999...Sun 1-4....Diane Van Volkenburg.. Weichert....................703 980 4553

1024 Challenor Road .......$750,000...Sun 1-4....Lyons and McGuire......Keller Williams...........703 406 9009

10808 Lockoread Ct.........$1,199,000...Sun 1-4....Glynis Canto  ..............Keller Williams...........703 395 2355

7509 Royal Oak Drive......$1,495,000...Sun 1-4....Jan and Dan Laytham...Long and Foster.........703 759 7777

McLean

1453 Laburnum St.......... $875,000...Sun 2-4....JD Collander.............Weichert....................703-666-7901

Sterling

46792 Backwater Ct....... $550,000...Sun 1-4....Gina Tufano..................Keller Williams..........703-574-3478

20389 Water Valley Court, $669,000...Sun 1-4....Gina Tufano..................Keller Williams..........703-574-3478

Manassas

9592 Ninebark Court #C...$159,900...Sun 1-4....Diana LeFrancois.........Century 21...............703-930-6682

www.ConnectionNewspapers.com

Vienna/Oakton Connection  February 9-15, 2011  13

When you visit one of these Open Houses, tell the Realtor you saw it in this Connection Newspaper. For more real estate listings and open houses visit www.ConnectionNewspapers.com, click the Real Estate links on the right side.

Call Specific Agents to Confirm Dates & Times.

601 Plum St., Vienna • $847,000 • Open Sunday 1-4
Lauren Sobol, Realty Investment, 703-615-5812

3208 Cobb Hill Lane......$599,950...Sun 1-4....Judy Gruner.................Long & Foster...........703-517-2464

2523 Freeman Drive..........$535,000...Sun 1-4....Suzanne Burch.............Century 21...............703-328-5606

2495 Golden Harvest Ct.....$389,950...Sun 1-4....Kathleen Quintarelli......Weichert....................703-862-8808

754 Ellsworth Ave.......... $1,699,999...Sun 1-4....Diane Van Volkenburg.. Weichert....................703 980 4553

1024 Challenor Road .......$750,000...Sun 1-4....Lyons and McGuire......Keller Williams...........703 406 9009

10808 Lockoread Ct.........$1,199,000...Sun 1-4....Glynis Canto  ..............Keller Williams...........703 395 2355

7509 Royal Oak Drive......$1,495,000...Sun 1-4....Jan and Dan Laytham...Long and Foster.........703 759 7777

1453 Laburnum St.......... $875,000...Sun 2-4....JD Collander.............Weichert....................703-666-7901

46792 Backwater Ct....... $550,000...Sun 1-4....Gina Tufano..................Keller Williams..........703-574-3478

20389 Water Valley Court, $669,000...Sun 1-4....Gina Tufano..................Keller Williams..........703-574-3478

9592 Ninebark Court #C...$159,900...Sun 1-4....Diana LeFrancois.........Century 21...............703-930-6682

To add your FREE Realtor represented Open House to these weekly listings, please contact Don Park at 703-778-9420, or donpark@connectionnewspapers.com. All listings are due by Monday at 3 p.m.
Helping Most Vulnerable

To the Editor:

Why the anti-social and niggardly propensities being sanctioned by those responsible for advancing the public and common good?

The Townsend Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) caseload in Virginia has been reduced by 47 percent since the start of Welfare Reform in 1995 (from 70,797 families in June 1995 to 37,686 families as of November 2010). However, Federal funding for the program has remained constant.

Although funding has remained constant and the caseload has been reduced, there has been only one increase in the benefit payable since 1985—i.e., 25 years ago.

The math—fewer families in need but the same level of funding—makes it clear that Virginia has received sufficient funds that could be used to pay a modest increase. A typical family of three now receives a mere $3,840 per year. That is about a fifth of the Federal poverty level.

Why has only one modest increase been considered in the past 25 years? In addition to the niggardly and anti-social propensities that are manifested by this inconsiderate behavior, there are also grave inequities in administration of benefits.

Consider these facts: If two siblings aged 3 and 5 live with a parent and are eligible for TANF, the family will receive a meager $320 per month. If they live with a relative other than a parent and are eligible for TANF, the family will receive even less in benefits.

If they live in foster care, the foster family will receive $918 per month to care for them. Why the disparity? Are poor children living with their families or a relative other than a parent less deserving than poor children living with a foster family? Could this not possibly encourage the breakup of a family, since parents could conclude that their children would be better supported in a foster family.

Virginia Sen. Janet Howell, Reston, and Del. James Scott, Merrifield, have proposed a TANF indexing budget amendment, a modest proposal that would provide an automatic adjustment for inflation and would “apply only in fiscal years following a fiscal year in which salary increases are provided for state employees.”

Their amendment clearly deserves support.

John Horjesi, Coordinator Social Action Linking Together (SALT)
Vienna

Minding My Own Business

By KENNETH H. LOURIE

I haven’t been writing much the last few weeks. However, I haven’t been writing nothing like writing became clear: it had to do with my having cancer (doesn’t everything?). However, my reasonings for this specific activity had to do with the rather serious (to me, anyway) subject matter on which I had written the last few weeks: outlining my original prognosis and dealing with my now unknown life-expectancy/ future as well as the as-yet understated treatment protocol going forward. Can you say angst? I can’t say I’ve done less about it than I might have. I’ve read very few of my oncology notes from the last two weeks. As I have just realized, I’ve been writing about this very subject matter, and I’m going to try and get out from underneath the shadows as well. And I largely succeeded until today. I do consider the fortnight a success, though. When you’re terminal and/or a cancer patient (state notwithstanding), a minute away, an hour away, a day away from it, you can control, things you can’t. Knowing when to give in to the emotion (and how to get out of it)—when you do and when you don’t—are the constants in this battle. And after a particularly stressful crossroads (of moment) (“Moments of Mercy,” Oct. 1, 2010), I paused and decided to exhale and give myself some time to breathe normally and wander emotionally and get off the cancer train, for however long I could. It didn’t mean I stopped thinking about it, it meant I stopped focusing on it— as best I could.

And for a few weeks, I really didn’t have a cancer thought worth writing/venting about. I was out of the woods for another quarter or so (the frequency of the all-telling scans), and I was going to try and get out from underneath the shadows as well. And I largely succeeded until today. I do consider the fortnight a success, though. When you’re terminal and/or a cancer patient (state notwithstanding), a minute away, an hour away, a day away from it, you can control, things you can’t. Knowing when to give in to the emotion (and how to get out of it)—when you do and when you don’t—are the constants in this battle. And after a particularly stressful crossroads (of moment) (“Moments of Mercy,” Oct. 1, 2010), I paused and decided to exhale and give myself some time to breathe normally and wander emotionally and get off the cancer train, for however long I could. It didn’t mean I stopped thinking about it, it meant I stopped focusing on it— as best I could.

And for a few weeks, I really didn’t have a cancer thought worth writing/venting about. I was out of the woods for another quarter or so (the frequency of the all-telling scans), and I was going to try and get out from underneath the shadows as well. And I largely succeeded until today. I do consider the fortnight a success, though. When you’re terminal and/or a cancer patient (state notwithstanding), a minute away, an hour away, a day away from it, you can control, things you can’t. Knowing when to give in to the emotion (and how to get out of it)—when you do and when you don’t—are the constants in this battle. And after a particularly stressful crossroads (of moment) (“Moments of Mercy,” Oct. 1, 2010), I paused and decided to exhale and give myself some time to breathe normally and wander emotionally and get off the cancer train, for however long I could. It didn’t mean I stopped thinking about it, it meant I stopped focusing on it— as best I could.

And for a few weeks, I really didn’t have a cancer thought worth writing/venting about. I was out of the woods for another quarter or so (the frequency of the all-telling scans), and I was going to try and get out from underneath the shadows as well. And I largely succeeded until today. I do consider the fortnight a success, though. When you’re terminal and/or a cancer patient (state notwithstanding), a minute away, an hour away, a day away from it, you can control, things you can’t. Knowing when to give in to the emotion (and how to get out of it)—when you do and when you don’t—are the constants in this battle. And after a particularly stressful crossroads (of moment) (“Moments of Mercy,” Oct. 1, 2010), I paused and decided to exhale and give myself some time to breathe normally and wander emotionally and get off the cancer train, for however long I could. It didn’t mean I stopped thinking about it, it meant I stopped focusing on it— as best I could.
Visit These Houses of Worship
Join A Club, Make New Friends, or Expand Your Horizons...

SMITH CHAPEL UM CHURCH
11321 Beach Mill Road
Great Falls, VA 20165
It’s like coming home
smithchapel@verizon.net
www.SmithChapelUMC.com
Rev. D. J. Zuchelli, Pastor

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF VIENNA
450 Orchard Street
Vienna, VA 22180
fbcvoffice@verizon.net
www.fbcv.org
Dr. KENNY SMITH, PASTOR

ST. ANNE’S EPISCOPAL CHURCH • Reston
703-437-6530
www.stannes-reston.org
1700 Wainwright Dr., Reston

GOOD SHEPHERD LUTHERAN CHURCH
Making more and better disciples of Christ
1133 Reston Avenue, Herndon, VA 20170
Worship: Sunday, 8:00 A.M. and 11:00 A.M.
Sunday School: 9:30 A.M.

To Highlight Your Faith Community call Karen at 703-917-6468

—

ST. LUKE A.M.E. CHURCH
Sheraton Reston Hotel
SUNDAY SCHOOL 9 A.M.
SUNDAY WORSHIP 10 A.M.
LET US WORSHIP GOD TOGETHER
Rev. Dr. Peter G. Taylor, Pastor
571-337-2022

ST. NICHOLAS CATHOLIC CHURCH
13511 Sunset Hills Road
Springfield, VA 22150
Rev. Fr. Fr. O’Connor
Worship: Saturday 5:30 & 11:00 A.M.

FORUM OF MARY BRITCH
Meeting House
11320 Lincolnia Rd.
Springfield, VA 22150
Rev. Constance M. Maloney
Worship: 11:00 A.M.

SMITH CHAPEL UM CHURCH
WORSHIP HOURS SUNDAY: 11:00 AM